Re: Operating Industries, Inc. Site, Alcoa Affiliated Entities

Dear Arthur:

On April 6, 2001, I forwarded you a list of entities that should be affiliated with Alcoa Inc. ("Alcoa") for purposes of the allocation at the Operating Industries, Inc. ("OII") site. These entities are: "Advanced Structures;" Alcoa Composites, Inc.; Alcoa Inc.; Alcoa Sport Products Company; Modern Faucet, Inc.; Reynolds Metals Company; and Weslock Corporation.<sup>1</sup>

Daniel Boone has advised me that volumes for several of these "affiliated" entities cannot be attributed to the overall Steering Committee volume under the third Consent Decree ("CD-3") without contribution to make those volumes CD-3 compliant. As Mr. Boone and I discussed, the relatively minor volumes attributed to "Advanced Structures," Alcoa Sport Products Company and Modern Faucet, Inc. have yet to be accounted for under CD-3.

Please advise me of your preferred route of bringing these volumes into CD-3 compliance. Please also feel free to call me with any questions.

Very truly yours,

Patrick Zaepfel

<sup>1</sup> Weslock, which was identified as a separate but Alcoa-affiliated entity in my April 6, 2001 letter, alternated between separate corporate status and divisional status within Alcoa Composites, Inc. However, to my knowledge, no volumes have been identified to Weslock Corporation as a separate entity.
